FROM OUR DIRECTOR, CAITLIN LOWANS:

As a director, this is my first voyage into the Forest of Arden and the world of As You Like It. With this ensemble of artists, we begin in the harsh, sly, bound world of the usurping Duke Frederick, in which comparison is king, yet there is only one accepted way to be in the world. Out of that world, some are banished; many others choose to leave out of loyalty to those they love.

In our Forest of Arden, we unfold into a direct and honest world, where lords, fools, and shepherds bumble, banter, and wonder together – where there is no singular agreed-upon path but rather a process of trying on, testing, and playing – as each of us seek balance. This story trafficks in a bit of magic – but finds the truest magic in our human capacity to forgive our harms, to care for one another, and to love deeply.

At the play's end, some of us stay in Arden, some of us go deeper into the woods, and many return to the world they left, bringing the Forest's changes with them. We wish the same for you.

CONVERSATION QUESTIONS!

We believe plays open a conversation you can have with yourself, with other people who experienced it, and with the world. Sometimes it can be hard to get started! Here are some questions to spark conversation.

- How did the production make you feel?
- As You Like It gives us two sets of brothers, Orlando and Oliver as well as Duke Senior and Duke Frederick, for whom envy lead to betrayal. What role has jealousy or comparison played in your own life?
- For Shakespearean director Adrian Noble, "the forest is ... also a metaphor. It's a real place in the sense that you can't walk in a straight line in a forest. Then, you emerge from that and that forest can be chaos. It can be a war, it can be battlefields of Agincourt... the streets of [a city]. It can be all sorts of manifestations."

  What sorts of things can only happen in the Forest?
  What does the Forest mean to you in this story?
- Jacques is often described as "melancholy", a word that now means sadness or depression. In Shakespeare's era, 'melancholy' had a medical or scientific meaning: that one of the four elements or "humors" of the body was out of balance.
  How do ideas or feelings of balance move in the play? Move in your own life?
- Why do you think Rosalind stays so long in disguise as a young man?
  What can she do as Ganymede that she might not feel is possible as herself?

WHY DO THEATER?

KATIE BRADLEY she/her | Jacques / LeBeau / Phoebe

ISA CONDO-OLVERA she/her/ella | Celia / Adam / Audrey

"We can't not do theatre. It fulfills our collective need for community, stories and empathy. Theatre has the power to unite, delight and transform us in a way that nothing else can."

Isa is thrilled to be working with TTT for a fourth time, after playing Iphigenia in Iphigenia at Aulis and dialect coaching The Most Happy Fella and Ten Thousand Voices Youth. Originally from Costa Rica, she moved to the Twin Cities to pursue her training at the UMN Guthrie BFA Acting Program and has since worked as an actor with the Guthrie Theater, Theater Latté Da, Playwrights' Center, An Opera Theatre, Frank Theater, Wonderlust Productions, Artistry Theater, Exposed Brick Theater, Yellow Tree Theatre, and History Theatre.

DARIUS DOTCH he/him | Orlando

"It is my calling to use the engine of theatre to impact lives."

Ivey award winning Darius Dotch is excited to be back at Ten Thousand things for a second time. He stared in his first production in the role of George in Intimate Apparel by Lynn Nottage. Dotch has been a professional actor for over 15 years and has worked at several renowned theatres such as Penumbra Theatre, Arena Stages and Guthrie Theatre.

BILL MCCALLUM he/him | Touchstone / Duke Frederick / Silvius

"I believe theater is important and necessary work. The ritual of people gathering in real time and space to take notice, through story, of our common humanity, is central to the evolution of humans as a social species. The stories we tell shape the world we live in. I love being a part of that. It is my calling."

Bill has been making theater in the twin cities for over 3 decades. He has worked at Penumbra Theater, Pillsbury House theater, Park Square Theater, Illusion Theater, Yellow Tree Theater, Dark & Stormy Productions (Associate Artistic Director) and more than 60 productions at the Guthrie Theater. Bill played Menaleus in Helen, and is thrilled to return to TTT for As You Like It.

RAYYAN KHAN he/him | Understudy

"I do theatre because of its power to turn language into something living when it passes between audiences and performers. It makes us listen more closely- to the words, to one another and to experiences beyond our own. I'm drawn to work that asks us questions we might not like to answer and helps us recognize ourselves in other, sometimes ancient, stories."

Rayyan is grateful to join Ten Thousand Things and its commitment to make theatre accessible across communities. A recent graduate of the University of Minnesota Acting BFA, Rayyan was born and raised in Mumbai, India. Outside the theater you can find him on a squash or pickleball court, or trying his hand on a new recipe. Recent credits: Hamlet in Hamlet and Claudio in Much Ado About Nothing at Gray Mallard Theater; Theseus in Welcome to Thebes, Lord Goring in An Ideal Husband at the University of Minnesota.

LAILA SAHIR she/her | Understudy

"I think theater is valuable because it provides us a space to play together, empathize with each other, and imagine new worlds with one another. Social change relies on being in community with one another and engaging in collective visioning, and theater can be an incredible tool to achieve both these things."

Previous credits: Theater Latté Da: My Ántonia; Mixed Blood: Upstream; Theater Mu: Maybe You Could Love Me; The Gray Mallard Theater: Much Ado About Nothing; New Arab American Theater Works: Rosette; Frank Theatre: The Resistible Rise of Arturo Ui; Walking Shadow Theatre Company: Cabal; Full Circle Theater: Antigonick; The Birth Play Project: Mary's Wondrous Body. Training: B.A. in Theatre and Psychology, Minor in Music, Luther College; Guthrie Actors Lab (Inaugural Cohort); NAATW Decolonized Performance Cohort (Inaugural Cohort). CAITLIN LOWANS they/she | Director

"I do theatre because it is the chance to create the world I hope to live in, one room at a time."

Previous Ten Thousand Things directing includes I*Two Gents* and The Most Happy Fella. Before coming to TTT, Caitlin served as Artistic Director of Theatreworks Colorado Springs, where they built deep community relationships, directed twelve productions, and created a TTT-inspired community Shakespeare touring program. Prior to Colorado, Caitlin pursued an MFA in directing at Northwestern University and spent the twelve years before that as a director, dramaturg, and theatre educator in Boston's theatre community.

JONI GRIFFITH she/her | Music Director

"I believe that we as humans depend on stories. The stories we tell shape our world view, our self-identity, our history, and ultimately our future. Not every story is profound, deep, or life changing, but they all offer us an opportunity to practice empathy, imagination, and the simple act of sharing an experience with someone else. To me that's what theater is and that is what it offers all of us."

Joni is a musician and movement artist residing in Minneapolis, MN. Some of her favorite companies to collaborate with include Mixed Precipitation, The Birth Play Project and physical theater group Combustible Company. Joni has written, recorded, and performed original music for multiple shows in the Midwest and New York. When not working on music you can find her gleefully riding her bike through the city or across the country! www.jonigriffith.com

MATTHEW MEEKS he/him | Stage Manager

"I do theatre to observe, participate in, and support the creative process of watching a group of artists create something that hasn't been done before in that exact way. It's a thrilling experience to watch unfold and then share that with an audience."

Matthew is a Twin Cities based AEA Stage Manager. He returns to TTT after having worked on Mlima's Tale and The Hatmaker's Wife, and has worked with the Guthrie Theater, American Players Theater, South Coast Repertory, Barrington Stage, Artistry, Illusion, and the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

SARAH BAHR she/her | Costume & Scenic/Props Design

"Theatre creates and reinforces my community, expands world views, and give us an opportunity to collectively experience stories that connect us."

TTT credits includes Men on Boats, Violet, This Girl..., Emilia, Iphigenia at Aulis, Thunder Knocking on the Door, and Sins of Sor Juana. As a costume and scenic designer for theatre, opera, and dance she has worked with companies including the Minnesota Opera, Jungle Theater, History Theatre, Theater Mu, Theater Latte Da, Trademark Theater, and BRKFST Dance Company. She is an advocate for designers and technicians, along with creating meaningful mentorship opportunities for emerging theatre artists. Sarah is a 2026-27 McKnight Theater Artist Fellow and is a proud member of United Scenic Artists Local 829 serving as a Central Region Board Member. Website: sarahbahr.com. WILLIAM STURDIVANT he/him | Text Coaching

"I am a 2026 McKnight Fellow, actor, poet, and champion of this extraordinary medium of theater. To be in community and share the most ancient of traditions of human expression, storytelling, is to be aligned with the divine. I believe in language, in kindness, in vulnerability and empathy, in courage and compassion, all of which are necessary for a storyteller to speak to the heart and soul of an audience. Why do theater? Because it makes you a better human, period."

ANNIE ENNEKING she/her | Wrestling Choreographer

Annie has been doing theater in some capacity for approximately 45 years. Her work as an actor, and fight and intimacy director has been seen on nearly every stage in the Twin Cities. She teaches the art of stage violence at the University of Minnesota, and fronts and founded the rock band Annie and the Bang Bang. She does theater because she loves to collaborate with creative people.

EMMA GUSTAFSON she/her | Scenic/Prop Design Assistant

"Theater is art, storytelling, and expression for and with community. The work we create is raw, live, unedited, real, and human. In a world dominated by screens and filters being a part of and experiencing theater is more important than ever."

Emma is a freelance theater designer, wig builder, hair stylist, and makeup artist based in rural Minnesota, working with companies throughout the state and across the country, including Minnesota Opera, Geva Theatre, Theatre Latté Da, History Theatre, Children's Theatre Company, Lakes Area Music Festival, Chanhassen Dinner Theatres, Guthrie Theatre, LOON, Wolf Trap Opera, Utah Shakespeare Festival, and Utah Opera, among others. This is her third show with TTT, and her debut as a scenic and props artisan. She holds a cosmetology license from Aveda Institute Minneapolis, apprenticed in wig-building at Santa Fe Opera, and earned a BA in Theatrical Design from Augsburg University.

CAROLINE A. ZALTRON she/her | Costume Design Assistant

"I love that theatre allows us to connect with each other in person and that is exactly what we need right now. Art is what makes life worth living."

Caroline is a Brazilian costume designer and technician based in the Twin Cities. She last worked as a costume designer for Abuelita (Prime Productions), The Girl Who Drank the Moon (Stages Theatre Company), Kiss of the Spider Woman (Teatro del Pueblo), Mamma Mia (Lyric Arts) and as Costume Design Assistant of Men on Boats (TTT). She is thrilled to be part of the creative team of As You Like It.
